About NFT

Clone X is a revolutionary NFT collection created by Rtfkt Studios in collaboration with Takashi Murakami, featuring 20,000 unique, customizable 3D avatars designed for the Metaverse. These avatars blend cutting-edge digital art with iconic design, offering owners the ability to personalize their digital identity with various accessories and attributes. Beyond being digital art, Clone X avatars provide exclusive access to events, merchandise, and future drops, while also being interoperable across virtual worlds and gaming platforms. As a fusion of art, technology, and culture, Clone X represents the future of digital ownership and community-driven experiences in the evolving NFT space.

CLONE X NFT PARTNERS WORLDWIDE

Clone X NFT partners deliver public relations and marketing services on a global scale.

Clone X is proud to have a global network of innovative partners who help drive the growth and development of the project. From top-tier artists and creative collaborators to technology pioneers and influential brands, our worldwide partners play an essential role in shaping the future of the Clone X universe. Together, we push boundaries in the digital art, fashion, and virtual spaces, creating unique experiences for our community and elevating the NFT ecosystem. Whether through collaborations, special events, or exclusive content, our partners bring fresh ideas and energy to Clone X, paving the way for new and exciting possibilities in the metaverse.

History NFT

Clone X was launched in November 2021 by Rtfkt Studios, a leading digital fashion and NFT brand, in collaboration with renowned Japanese artist Takashi Murakami. The project was created to push the boundaries of digital art and NFTs, offering a collection of 20,000 unique, customizable 3D avatars designed for the Metaverse. The partnership with Murakami brought his iconic artistic style to the digital realm, blending futuristic avatars with his signature elements. Since its debut, Clone X has rapidly become a significant part of the NFT and digital art landscape, attracting global attention and creating an exclusive community of digital identity enthusiasts.

About Us

Clone X is an innovative NFT project created by Rtfkt Studios in collaboration with iconic artist Takashi Murakami, aiming to redefine digital identity and art in the Metaverse. The project features 20,000 unique, customizable 3D avatars that blend cutting-edge design with Murakami's distinctive art style. Each avatar serves as both a piece of digital art and a virtual persona, offering holders exclusive access to events, merchandise, and future drops. With a focus on interoperability across virtual worlds, Clone X is at the forefront of the digital ownership revolution, building a dynamic, community-driven space for collectors and creators alike.

Our Vision

Our vision for Clone X is to revolutionize the concept of digital identity and ownership in the Metaverse by creating a dynamic ecosystem where art, technology, and community converge. We aim to empower individuals to express themselves through unique, customizable 3D avatars, unlocking new opportunities for personal engagement, creativity, and immersive experiences. By blending cutting-edge design with the potential of NFTs, our goal is to build a vibrant, inclusive community that drives the future of digital interaction, creating lasting value and connections within the ever-evolving virtual world.

Our Mission

Our mission with Clone X is to redefine digital ownership and self-expression by creating a groundbreaking collection of customizable 3D avatars that seamlessly integrate into the Metaverse. We strive to provide a platform where art, technology, and community come together, enabling individuals to personalize their digital identities and engage in immersive, interactive experiences. Through innovation and collaboration, our goal is to empower users to explore new possibilities in the digital world, while fostering a vibrant, inclusive community that thrives on creativity, connectivity, and the future of NFTs.
